

Cite the Site!

A Middle School Lesson

Bibliography of Useful Websites

Learn How To Electronic Documents. May 17, 2002. <<http://library.queensu.ca/libguides/citationguides.htm>>.

Queens University Library, Kingston Canada has a comprehensive manual that not only covers citation of online documents but provides guidelines for producing them. . . . An excellent supplement to the standard style manuals."

Harris, Tristan. Bibliographer. March 14, 2002 May 15, 2002. <<http://homepage.mac.com/tristanh/>>.

This site will provide downloads for the freeware program, Bibliographer. A Bibliography generating application tuned for school and home use that will generate bibliographies in standard MLA format. It includes support for Book entries, Encyclopedia entries, URL entries, Magazine entries, personal Interview entries, TV/Radio entries, Speech entries, and Video entries.

Schrock, Kathleen. Kathy Schrock's Guide for Educators. 1 June 1995. May 15, 2002. <<http://discoveryschool.com/schrockguide/>>.

Excellent site for teachers that provides a directory style list of the many sites available for instruction and lessons on creating bibliographies and proper citations.